DETAILS:

A. BACKGROUND

At Saginaw, Michigan:

The following investigation was conducted by SA [redacted]

Chief of Police WILLIAM A. YULE [redacted]

Saginaw Police Department, both of whom were contacted on February 3, 1958, [redacted] Saginaw Police Department, who were contacted on February 4, 1958, advised that [redacted] in Saginaw, Michigan [redacted] They similarly advised that originally the [redacted]

They advised that [redacted] was initially located on North Michigan Avenue in Saginaw, but in approximately [redacted]

They advised they are not too well acquainted with the members of the family and do not know their names. They advised they have never heard of any member of the [redacted] family being connected with any criminal element in any capacity and to their knowledge, they stated the [redacted] are law abiding people.

They advised they recall that about twenty-five years ago some unknown person placed a bomb in the doorway [redacted] grocery store, however, it did not go off. They recall further that several years later, another bomb was placed in the doorway [redacted] grocery store and this bomb exploded, doing much damage. They advised they could not recall the details, but they recall the culprit was not apprehended and bombing was never explained. They stated the records of the Police Department may provide more information on these incidents.

Detective Sergeant [REDACTED] Saginaw Police Department, on February 4, 1958, furnished substantially the same information as was furnished by Chief YULE, Sergeant [REDACTED] Detective [REDACTED] and Sergeant [REDACTED] on February 3, 1958. In addition, Sergeant [REDACTED] advised [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]
He advised that [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] advised he heard at one time that the [REDACTED] families were all related in some degree to the families of the wives of [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] did not know the relationship. [REDACTED] advised he did not know the Subject of this case.

[REDACTED] On February 12, 1958, Detective Sergeant [REDACTED] advised that a source of information advised him that with respect to the bombing incidents, it was believed to be a family affair. [REDACTED] advised his source stated the family affair involved a loan of money. [REDACTED] stated there were no other details.

[REDACTED] Sergeant [REDACTED] formerly a member of the Saginaw Police Department, stated he has never received any indication that any member of the [REDACTED] family were engaging in any illegal or criminal activity.

Sergeant [REDACTED] Saginaw Police Department, advised on February 3, 1958, that he is not acquainted with the individual members of the [REDACTED] family, however, he advised that in the [REDACTED] years he has been connected with the [REDACTED] of the Saginaw Police Department, he has never received any indication that any member of the [REDACTED] family was engaging in any illegal or criminal activity.

Officer [REDACTED] Saginaw
Police Department, and [REDACTED] advised on February 7, 1958, that in his years on the Saginaw Police Department, he has never received any indication that members of the [REDACTED] family were engaging in any illegal or criminal activity. He stated he is not acquainted with the family to any degree and was unable to recall the details surrounding the attempt and actual bombing of the [REDACTED] store many years ago.

Lieutenant [REDACTED] Saginaw Police Department, advised on February 10, 1958, that his index does not reflect the dates of the attempt bombing and actual bombing of the [REDACTED] grocery store and he stated the exact dates would be necessary as it would assist in locating the police reports which are in storage at the City's Water Works Plant.

[REDACTED] The Saginaw
News, made available the newspaper clipping from the Saginaw News newspaper, dated April 2, 1931, which reflected an entry that the Saginaw Police were hunting the miscreants who put two sticks of dynamite in the doorway of Jack Provenzano Grocery, 2451 N. Michigan Avenue, Saginaw.
The article states the fuse burned out an inch from the detonating point and the bomb did not explode.

[REDACTED] provided a clipping from the October 9, 1935 issue of the Saginaw News newspaper, which reflected that at 11:45 p.m. on October 8, 1935 (Wednesday), a bomb exploded in the doorway of the Jack Provenzano Grocery, 1115 West Genesee Street, Saginaw. The bomb caused much damage to the store front and inside the store as well as the adjacent residences. Nobody was hurt. The clipping indicates the members of the PROVENZANO family were questioned, however, they were unable to furnish the names of anyone who had a grudge against them or who had given them any warning, oral or written. No other details reported.

[redacted] advised that his index disclosed no further clippings on this matter.

Lieutenant [redacted] Saginaw Police Department, and SA [redacted] on February 20, 1958, searched through old police records at the City's Water Works Plant. A Complaint sheet on the bombing of October 8, 1935, was located but contained no additional information. Also located was a supplemental report, executed by Sergeant HARRY COLE (now deceased) and dated October 9, 1935, that this complaint was being investigated (presumably by him) and a subsequent supplemental report, executed by Sergeant HARRY COLE, which reads to the effect that this case is being placed in the inactive status. No record could be found on the attempted bombing, April 2, 1931.

Lieutenant [redacted] advised regretfully that investigative notes at the time of the bombing were not maintained and kept as they are today. He stated further that Sergeant COLE had the reputation and was the master of brevity. Lieutenant [redacted] advised to his knowledge there was not another source which would reveal information concerning the attempted bombing and bombing of the grocery stores.

He stated CAPLAN had resided in Detroit since he was a young man and his records indicated that CAPLAN had been arrested in Detroit in 1928. Since that time CAPLAN had driven taxi cabs but in 1940 was arrested for working in the numbers business and so far as BOURKE is concerned, CAPLAN has been employed by numbers operators since that time.

He said during that time CAPLAN has operated taxi cabs under the Checker Cab System and that in approximately the middle 1930s he knew CAPLAN became an operator in the numbers business. He stated he believed CAPLAN still deals in numbers but he does not know his exact connection. He did state CAPLAN associated a great deal with the Hebrew element although he reportedly worked among the Italian gambling syndicate. This Informant stated to his knowledge CAPLAN never harmed anybody, was considered a gentleman but was merely classified as a numbers hustler.

B. Criminal Record

Records of the Detroit Police Department were examined by SA [redacted] on November 17, 1958, and these revealed that ARTHUR CAPLAN was last fingerprinted on March 10, 1951, as an owner of Checker Cabs. The records further revealed that he was arrested on January 19, 1928, on a charge of possession of unregistered gun although the original arrest card has a notation that CAPLAN was arrested at 15403 Quincy holding up a private home. The record again shows that on March 20, 1928, CAPLAN was arrested on the charge of robbery armed and a notation on the original arrest card shows CAPLAN [redacted]

C. Criminal Activities

Senior Inspector WILLIAM BOURKE, Detroit Police Department, advised S [redacted] on November 17, 1958, that he has known of ARTHUR CAPLAN since the late 1930s. He stated at that time CAPLAN was working for a small numbers organization known as Michigan bankers which was made up of what he recalls to be a few operators who were Hebrew. He said in early 1941 CAPLAN was arrested, convicted and his organization dropped out of the numbers business. He stated he believes shortly after that time CAPLAN was employed by PETE CORRADO who operated the Murphy House, a large numbers organization, and that CAPLAN was supposedly highly trusted by CORRADO and worked directly for CORRADO until CORRADO's death in January, 1957. BOURKE stated that he believes CAPLAN is still active in the CORRADO numbers outfit which may be owned by CORRADO [redacted]

Confidential Informant [redacted] in July of 1951, advised this office that ARTHUR CAPLAN was a lieutenant for PETE CORRADO's numbers house.

In December, 1953, this same Informant stated ARTHUR CAPLAN of 18671 Greenlawn, where CAPLAN formerly lived, was a front man working for PETE CORRADO in the numbers house known as the Murphy House. The Informant stated that CORRADO had made the statement that he never checked up on CAPLAN but took his word for the amounts of money that were due CORRADO. This Informant also added that CAPLAN reportedly kept the records for CORRADO's numbers house.

On February 19, 1958, [redacted] advised that CAPLAN was then on a Mediterranean cruise and that he had moved to Shrewsbury Street in the Palmer Park area of Detroit, Michigan, and that he still was active in the CORRADO numbers organization.

The Informant again stated CAPLAN was active in the CORRADO numbers organization on August 9, 1958.

[redacted] in 1951 stated that CORRADO headed a large numbers organization in Detroit [redacted]

Confidential Informant [redacted] advised that he recalls a numbers operation known as the Michigan Bankers which was a Jewish operation which was broken up by the Detroit Police Department in the late 1930s. He advised J. PLAIN was associated with this numbers outfit until it was broken up. Following that, [redacted] states he does not know what CAPLAN's position has been except that five or six years ago he personally attended a meeting at the Gotham Hotel where a number of numbers men met to discuss the cutting down on the amount of payoff on numbers hits. He states he recalls that CAPLAN attended that meeting with PETE CORRADO who ran the Murphy House and that he recalls that CAPLAN was then employed by CORRADO.

Confidential Informant [redacted] advised that he [redacted]

Confidential Informant [redacted] advised on December 10, 1958, that he has known CAPLAN [redacted]. He added that in the early 1930s he was at a meeting in Cleveland, Ohio, where a number of men were present including [redacted] and known Cleveland gamblers and others including CAPLAN. He stated that at this meeting CAPLAN represented a number of Michigan gamblers and discussions had to do with the operation of numbers and slot machines in Michigan, Ohio, Buffalo, New York, and Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. This Informant described CAPLAN [redacted]. The Informant further stated that in the late 1930s, the Italian syndicate was attempting to arrange to open the State of Michigan to gamblers.

PETE CORRADO, well known Detroit gamblers at that time, MERT WERTHEIMER, a former well known Detroit gambler who died in Reno, Nevada, in the summer of 1958, as well as CAPLAN were present. The discussion held related to who would handle different phases of gambling in Michigan and this Informant states [redacted] CAPLAN was to have control over certain slot machines. He stated, however, the State of Michigan was never opened so that CAPLAN never did receive his slot machine locations. This Informant [redacted]

PETE CORRADO [redacted] He stated until PETE CORRADO's death he actually ran the organization that the CORRADO outfit was the best run numbers outfit in Detroit. He stated that at this time CAPLAN is the outside man taking care of all business on the outside of the actual numbers houses and that he also believes he is the go between for this organization and the Detroit Police Department. He added that in addition to ANTHONY GIACALONE, Subject of instant case, is a trouble shooter and is responsible for any trouble in the organization that has to be ironed out. He also stated that GIACALONE is responsible for moving of offices and the location of the numbers headquarters.

On December 17, 1958, Senior Inspector WILLIAM BOURKE, Detroit Police Department, advised SA [redacted] that on one occasion he had observed CAPLAN and ANTHONY GIACALONE talking to [redacted] a well known numbers pickup man, but that the conversation was not overheard.

D. Legitimate Enterprises

Lieutenant HERBERT STEEL, Public Vehicle Bureau, Detroit Police Department, produced a record maintained by that department which revealed that in 1929 CAPLAN obtained permits to operate two taxi cabs under the Checker Cab System in Detroit. This record further revealed that in 1939, CAPLAN added one more taxi cab; in 1946, he added another and from 1952 through 1955, purchased permits from six other persons so that he now has a total of ten Checker Cabs operating in the Detroit area. Lieutenant STEEL states that this is a very lucrative business since taxi cab permits are greatly restricted in the Detroit area. These taxi cabs operate out of the Checker Cab Company offices at 2120 Trumbull Avenue, Detroit. b7I

[redacted], advised SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] on December 11, 1958, that the Amsco Purchasing Company was organized in 1952 by each of several persons receiving $21,000 who engaged in the finance business. He stated that business was not successful since they were unable to borrow sufficient capital so the company disbanded in 1955. [redacted] claimed he knew CAPLAN as a taxi cab owner.

The records of the Merchants Credit Bureau were examined by IC [redacted] on November 20, 1958. This revealed that CAPLAN resided at 19619 Shrewsbury, Detroit, and that he had a temporary residence at 9981 West Bay Harbor Drive, Bay Harbor Isle. With regard to the individuals arrested December 19, 1958, EASTMAN advised that it has been ascertained that

Sergeant LILLENTHAL advised that there is no doubt the Wyandotte operation is controlled by some "large operation in the Detroit area"

Photographs of the Detroit Hoodlums were exhibited to LILLENTHAL and he was unable to identify any of them as being associated or appearing on the scene of the Wyandotte operation. He was unable to identify the photograph of TONY GIACALONE as ever appearing in connection with the Wyandotte operation.

ST. CLAIR SHORES, MICHIGAN, GAMBLING OPERATION

"The Detroit Free Press" for April 25, 1959, had an article to the effect that CHARLES W. "RED" GORMAN paid a $1,000.00 fine and $300.00 costs the previous day in court in Macomb County. The article described GORMAN as sixty-four years of age, living at 22640 Downing, St. Clair Shores, Michigan. The article further stated that he had been arrested on October 5, 1957, after a six months surveillance by State Police, Macomb County Sheriff's Office, and St. Clair Shores Police who had filmed some of the comings and goings at GORMAN's home. The article stated that GORMAN; CHARLES GEBELL, forty-seven years of age, 23706 East Jefferson; ORLANDO SPINA, 21217 Crane; Mrs. CATHERINE GUARESIMA, 21808 Bonbrae; STANLEY MARSHALL, 28104 East Jefferson; and Mrs. BETTY MANNING, 22521 Hanson, all St. Clair Shores, Michigan, were all involved in the gambling operation. I. CRIMINAL ACTIVITIES

A. Handbook Operation

1. Race Results and Handicap Service

Confidential Informant [redacted] advised SA [redacted]
and SA [redacted] on June 4, 1959, that [redacted]

[redacted]
handicap service to Subject [redacted] [redacted] service to handbook operators in Detroit for $20.00 per week. This Informant states that he believes that [redacted]

The Informant states that [redacted]
[redacted]

After obtaining information from the track where the horses are running, he takes a sheet of paper and at the top of the page has code letters for the track and letters indicating the weather conditions expected for the day. He places numbers in columns running from the top of the page to the bottom in as many columns as there are races scheduled at that track for that particular day. He states, for instance, in the first column, which would be the first race held, [redacted] places numbers one under the other, such as 3, 9, 20, etc. He states the 3 means that the first horse in that race will have odds of 3 to 1 while the second horse would have odds of 9 to 1, etc. He states if there is a line drawn where a number should appear in this column, that indicates that that particular numbered horse has been scratched from that race.

He states this information must be accurate since this is the information upon which a handbook operator can determine the odds for that particular day for each horse.

that will be running. He also states that the man who prepares this information must be extremely accurate in his predictions or his information will be worth nothing.

This same Informant stated that race results are received in Detroit through various means. He stated that he knows that one of the Chicago tracks has a setup whereby someone is stationed on the track with a walkie-talkie and that information is relayed by this man to a person outside the track who has a telephone and, [redacted] [redacted] receives race results by telephone as the race is being run. Immediately upon conclusion of the race, he receives three numbers, which are the numbers of the horses who won, placed, and showed. He states this information is also furnished to employees of Subject who, in turn, sell these results to local handbooks for .50.00 per week, along with results from other tracks.

The Informant stated that where this telephone service is not available or a setup cannot be arranged as mentioned here, race results are obtained through some person who is working on the sports wire for UPI, a news service. The Informant stated he did not know the employees of UPI but that there is one who furnishes race information.

Informant further stated that this information, including the handicap and results service, is furnished to bookmakers for a total cost of 70.00 per week and that Subject GIACALONE is the man who is in charge of selling and collecting for the service.

This Informant added that Detroit is full of independent handbook operators, many of whom purchase the handicap service and race results service from the GIACALONE brothers. He also states that many small bookmakers buy the service and, in turn, split the cost with friends of theirs who are small-time bookmakers.

DE 92-223

Confidential Informant [redacted] advised SA [redacted]
[redacted] and SA [redacted] on May 26, 1959, and June 2, 1959, as follows:

[redacted]

He advised that [redacted]
the Detroit area in the operation of the race results service and that Subject handles the operation from the standpoint of collecting from those who utilize the service.

He added that service from some tracks where horses are running is available to a bookmaker in a period of three to four minutes after the race has been run while some results come considerably slower.

The above two Informants both stated that the service is necessary to the operation of a telephone handbook or any kind of a handbook operator since it is necessary to know the daily odds on a horse when a bet is taken for the bookmaker's protection and it is also necessary to get the results so that if a horse wins and a bettor has won a substantial sum of money he can be advised that he has won and the chances are that he will play the money back on a later race that day so that the bookmaker has a good opportunity to recoup any losses he may have incurred.

Confidential Informant [redacted] advised SA [redacted] on June 13, 1959, that race results are available as described above and added that handbook operations in Detroit can never be greatly curtailed by the police because the operations are done almost exclusively over the telephone with no open handbooks operating in Detroit to his knowledge.

DE 92-228

[redacted] for race results from the Detroit race tracks. He states the "off and running" service would require a man to be stationed on the track with some method of relaying information to a telephone outside the track so that the man on the telephone could furnish a description of the race as it was in progress together with the immediate winners.

2. Handbook Operation

[redacted] previously mentioned, both advised that Detroit has a great many independent handbook operators, all of whom operate on a telephone basis. They further stated that [redacted]

c2
r7.
[redacted] They refer to these branches as bartenders, barbers, and small operators who take bets and, in turn, call them in to [redacted] office wherever he is located. They further stated that [redacted] frequently moves. They stated that the other small bookies are controlled in no way by the syndicate other than if they desire service it must be purchased through the Subject's setup or obtained from some friend of theirs.

[redacted] further advised that [redacted] major bookmakers in Detroit [redacted]

[redacted] It is to be noted that as of June 4, 1959, [redacted] mentioned above, was operating from telephone numbers [redacted]

[redacted] advised SA [redacted] on June 13, 1959, that the race results service is as described above but added that there are hundreds of small, independent bookmakers in the Detroit area. He stated they, as a rule, are a group of poor individuals and stated that if the whole group were put together they could not raise $200,000.00 among themselves.

He further stated that there is no effort to control the independent handbook operators, except that the syndicate does sell handicap and race results service and is generally familiar with the handbook men since most of them will occasionally receive bets that are too big to handle and that they, in turn, will layoff those bets to someone in the syndicate who the particular bookie happens to know.

Records of this office reveal that [redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted] is known to SA [redacted] of this office and on numerous occasions has referred to himself as a handbook operator who has done nothing other than that all of his life.

B. Barbooth

[redacted] previously mentioned, advised SA [redacted] on June 17, 1959, that barbooth is a game wherein dice are used and that it has been a prominent gambling activity in the Detroit area for many years. He states the game operates from the use of dice and that each time the dice are rolled there occurs a winner or a loser. He states barbooth was one of the leading sources of the gambling operation of PELLE CORRADO, who died in 1957. He states a game can be set up by renting a place to hold a game and merely operating the hall. He states the operator of the game does not bet but takes three percent of each bet made. He states that most every point on the dice is listed as a winner or a loser although a few of the points do not count. He states the man who rents the hall has food to keep the customers around and that as each player gets the dice he lays down his bet, from which the house takes three percent. When the bet is covered, he rolls the dice and since it is a relatively fast game money immediately changes hands, less the three percent taken by the house.

DL 92-223

He states for some reason a great many Detroiters like this game; that it is a very fair game for the bettors since the betting is between individuals, but that it is extremely profitable for a game being run.

It is to be noted that a large barbooth game has been in operation in Detroit for considerable time in the building located at the southwest corner of Congress and Orleans, Detroit. According to [redacted] this game has been run for some time by subject [redacted]

[redacted] advised SA [redacted] on June 17, 1959, that some of the profit has been taken out of the barbooth game since the police have been frequently raiding the hall and that in order to keep the game operating it has been necessary to rent three other places so that the game can be moved from time to time.

Senior Inspector WILLIAM BOURKE, Vice Bureau, Detroit Police Department, advised SA [redacted] on June 15, 1959, that he had recently been told that the barbooth game that had been running for a number of years at the corner of Congress and Orleans was shifted from time to time and that they had an apartment rented in the Alamo Motel, 2900 Woodward, and at the Grace Harper Apartments on East Alexandrine, where the game could be moved.

[redacted] advised SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] on June 4, 1959, that he understood that [redacted] had a location someplace down the alley from the building at the corner of East Congress and Orleans so that if the police raid again the game could be moved down the alley to another location and the game could continue.

It is to be noted that this Informant [redacted]

He said they had merely been nuisance raids since the building is so constructed that it is impossible to see into the second floor where the games are held and that by the time the police gain entrance to the building there is no gambling paraphernalia in sight and the group of people is merely sitting around reading newspapers.

He states his job is to be the man on the street who has the responsibility of making direct contact with people employed in the rackets. If he learns of any cheating or other trouble, it is his responsibility to report it to the top bosses and since there are numerous instances where collectors attempt to cheat and have to be pulled back into line, Subject might get the reputation of a stool pigeon.

DETAILS:

I. CRIMINAL ACTIVITIES

Handbook and Race Results

Confidential Informant [redacted] advised SA [redacted] on June 12, 1959, that Subject receives $500.00 weekly for looking after the BOMMARITO gambling interests. He has added that this includes the gambling interests controlled by former PETE CORRADO, who died in January of 1957. This Informant states that he does not know in what form this payment is received but that this figure had been quoted to him as Subject's earnings for salary and for his share of profits.

Confidential Informant [redacted] advised SA [redacted] [redacted] on July 28, 1959, that race results coming into Detroit are controlled by ANTHONY GIACALONE but are under the immediate direction of [redacted]. He referred to this operation as the Murphy House, which is the name under which the former PETE CORRADO operated the numbers business. He states that this race results service is purchased for $75.00 a week and that this organization also furnishes the winning number for the numbers houses. He stated those numbers are obtained after the race results are compiled. He also stated that small operators do not purchase this service but that a handbook operator or a fair size numbers house buys the service and in turn furnishes it free to small numbers and handbook operators who lay off bigger bets to the bigger operators.

Confidential Informant [redacted] advised SA [redacted] [redacted] on June 17, 1959, [redacted] ANTHONY [redacted] He stated that these two are front men for the Italian syndicate and that they became prominent since they were rough and ready and willing to do the bidding of the older fellows. [redacted]

[redacted] He stated it is common practice for bookmakers to go to a race track that is running in the Detroit area and lay off money that had been bet with him so that the odds on a horse could be reduced if he had too much money bet on a certain horse. He further stated that a small bookmaker can operate independently without any trouble from the syndicate but that if he loses money and has to turn to some of the syndicate members for help, it is at that time that the syndicate loans him money but takes an interest in his operation.

Under date of July 26, 1959, the Miami Office furnished the following information. It is to be noted that telephone number [redacted]

On May 15 and 28, 1959, Detective [redacted] advised he had conducted inquiry in the vicinity of the above residence and had determined that there is no activity at this residence at the present time. He pointed out that it would be unusual to find activity locally so late in the year because the last Miami race track meet had closed at Gulfstream Race Track, Hallandale, Florida, on April 22, 1959. Detective [redacted] advised there were indications that bookmaking activities had been conducted at this residence during the early months of 1959. [redacted] further advised that inasmuch as activity has now ceased, his department has refrained from open inquiry in the hope that this information may be utilized during the next racing season.

On July 16, 1959, Inspector FRED HEATH, Vice Bureau, Detroit Police Department, advised SA [redacted] that his department has never arrested [redacted]. He did state, however, that on July 10, 1959, a raid was made at Apartment [redacted] which had two telephones, one of which was [redacted].

It is to be noted that this number had been previously furnished this office as an office number for [redacted]
[redacted]

Inspector HEATH stated that his men had difficulty getting in the door and that when they did gain entry to the apartment. [redacted]
[redacted]

[redacted] Inspector HEATH stated that before breaking down the door his men smelled paper burning. When they finally were admitted, paper was being burned in a metal pail in a sink in the apartment and the wires from two telephones had been cut.

Inspector HEATH stated the procedure in the past has been for the officers, when getting into a handbook, to accept any calls so that they can possibly take a horse bet and identify the establishment as a betting operation. He states this raid was the first time they ran into the above procedure and that it eliminated any possibility of proving any gambling operation.

Barbute

Lieutenant EUGENE GEIEIG, Vice Bureau, Detroit Police Department, advised SA [redacted] on July 8, 1959, that barbute is known to Eastern Europeans, where the game reportedly originated, as barbudi. He stated that the game is played with dice and the operator of the game does not gamble in any way but merely deducts three per cent of each bet placed. In other words, if a better bets $100.00 the house takes three per cent of that bet but does not deduct money from the person who covers the bet. The following rolls of the dice are winning numbers: 3-3, 5-5, and 6-6. 1-1, 2-2, and 4-4 are losing numbers, but the players frequently will include 6-5 as a winner and 1-2 as a loser. The person who has the dice rolls them, and if no decisive number appears his opponent rolls them back until a decisive number appears. All other numbers rolled are meaningless. The player who rolls the dice wins his bet if he rolls a winning number and loses if he rolls a losing number. If the person who shot the dice won, he keeps the dice for the next roll, otherwise he passes to his opponent.

Confidential Informant [redacted] advised on May 5, 1959, that he frequents the barbute game at the Lebanese-American Club, which operates on the second floor on the corner of Orleans and Congress Streets Detroit. [redacted]

I. CRIMINAL ACTIVITIES

Confidential Informant [redacted] advised SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] on August 31, 1959, that he was not too well acquainted with ANTHONY GIACALONE; however, he stated that PETER CORRADO, who died in January of 1957 and who was a leader in the Detroit Italian gambling syndicate, had started GIACALONE in the rackets. He stated that GIACALONE seldom associates with the other Italian hoodlums but described him as a rough type of person among the Italians, but that that is true of most of the Italians who have money.

Inspector FRED HEATH, Vice Bureau, Detroit Police Department, advised SA [redacted] on September 21, 1959, that ANTHONY GIACALONE [redacted] according to information he has received, operate the race track results in the Detroit area and apparently control or at least share in the profits of the barbute games. He stated that GIACALONE apparently has been placed in this position [redacted]

A. Handbook and Race Results

Inspector FRED HEATH, Vice Bureau, Detroit Police Department, advised SA [redacted] on September 16, 1959, that he had received a letter which was signed [redacted] which the writer stated was an assumed name. The letter did state that [redacted]
[redacted]

It is to be noted that in the past, information concerning this restaurant has been furnished indicating this restaurant [redacted]

PETER CORRADO.

The letter also stated that [redacted] b 7C district in Detroit known as "Greek Town," and that these are protected by the Detroit Police. The letter further stated that if a rival handbook is opened, it is immediately reported to the Police [redacted] and this [redacted] eliminates competition. The letter stated that the pay through [redacted] or others in the syndicate for protection from the police is $100.00 a month for Lieutenants, $50.00 for Sergeants and $20.00 for Patrolmen.

Inspector HEATH advised that on September 10, 1959, as a result of the above letter, he took a crew of picked men and raided the Greek restaurants located at 450, 557, 566 and 579 Monroe Street and took everybody out of these establishments to Police Headquarters. In the Kentron Restaurant at 450 Monroe there was a loose nail in the door frame which, when pushed, sounded a buzzer in the back room of the restaurant. He stated telephones were torn out of the restaurants and no gambling case was made, although forms used by bookmakers were taken from several men.

As a result of this raid, Inspector HEATH stated he has been threatened with law suits for false arrests by [redacted] was taken to Police Headquarters. Inspector HEATH stated that this follows the pattern since a number of elderly foreign-born men while away their time around gambling establishments and although they have no part of the gambling, they are a coverup for the gambling activities. HEATH added that his experience has been that the precinct officers turn their heads to gambling activities, possibly for money, and as a result, he had difficulty in attempting to enforce gambling laws with his small crew and with the restrictions on arrests and searches.

Inspector HEATH, on September 4, 1959, advised SA [redacted] that he and one of his officers had received information from the Michigan Bell Telephone Company officials relative to a certain employee who they suspected of installing telephones in locations other than the locations for which service was listed. Inspector HEATH stated that he had recently observed such an operation by a telephone company employee, and that the telephone company did not want to fire the man but desired to work with HEATH and make a court case against the employee.

[redacted] On September 9, 1959, Inspector HEATH advised SA [redacted] that on September 8, 1959, his crew had broken down the door in an upstairs apartment at [redacted] where seven telephones were confiscated. Also, some racing forms were taken and arrested were [redacted]

[REDACTED] HEATH stated the only way to stop this activity was to break in the door so that no court case was possible.

Confidential Informant [REDACTED] advised SA [REDACTED] on September 23, 1959, that [REDACTED] is again operating his handbook, and that he is receiving information for his handbook through telephone number [REDACTED]

Confidential Informant [REDACTED] advised SA [REDACTED] and SA [REDACTED] on September 23, 1959, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] He did state that the service, however, is still under the direction of ANTHONY GIACALONE [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] He further stated for the syndicate. He also added that service for the numbers houses, which furnishes the winning number each day, is not handled by GIACALONE to his knowledge. He further stated [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] He stated these green sheets cost $15.00 a bundle, which consists of 500 sheets.

On September 14, 1959, Lieutenant EUGENE GEIBIG, Vice Bureau, Detroit Police Department, examined his file card on gamblers arrested by the Vice Bureau for a period of many years and stated this failed to reveal anyone by the name of

On the same date, records of the Identification Bureau, Detroit Police Department, were examined without locating any record of an [redacted] and the City Directory for Detroit failed to list [redacted]

[redacted] previously mentioned, on September 18, 1959, advised SA [redacted] he knows of no bookmaker by the name of [redacted] but that it is a common practice for bookmakers to obtain a telephone in a phony name and have the telephone installed at a location different from where the listing appears. He stated he could not recall ever using the telephone number [redacted]

B. Barbute

Inspector FRED HEATH, Vice Bureau, Detroit Police Department, advised SA [redacted] on September 3, 1959, that on that afternoon he was going to raid the barbute game at Orleans and Congress.

On September 4, 1959, Inspector HEATH stated that on the previous afternoon he had raided the building at [redacted] which is the Lebanese American Club, and had brought approximately twenty people to the station.

[REDACTED] HEATH stated that there were people who were apparently lookouts in the neighborhood as well as the doorman so that by the time he got up to the second floor, there was no gambling activity whatever, and that no gambling paraphernalia was located.

On September 18, 1959, Inspector HEATH advised he again raided the address of [REDACTED] on September 17, 1959, and that on that occasion [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] together with everyone else in the place. He stated the difficulty with this location is that several lookouts are maintained in the neighborhood and the management feeds a number of old men who sit around the gambling room and who were playing checkers when police officers finally reached the gambling room. Included in the group arrested [REDACTED]

DETAILS:I. CRIMINAL ACTIVITIES

Inspector FRED HEATH, Vice Bureau, Detroit Police Department, advised SA [redacted] on October 5, 1959, that during the previous night he and other men had observed a supervisory employee of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company working at the rear of a building on Monroe Street. He stated this employee allegedly is installing telephones for bookmakers at $50 per installation. He stated the employee is regularly assigned to the Great Lakes Steel Company detail and that his duties in that plant keep him occupied so that he does not have to report to any other telephone company officials.

In addition, this employee has an inventory of telephone company material which he uses for telephone company business at Great Lakes Steel. Inspector HEATH said this man works for the syndicate and does not interfere with telephones that have been ordered for a store, building or an apartment, but from outside the building runs a new wire into a room or apartment thereby putting several telephones at the disposal of a bookmaker without interfering with telephone company services which appears on the records of the telephone company.

On October 14, 1959, Inspector HEATH said that the previous night men in his department had observed this telephone company employee running wires at the back of an apartment house indicating he was making another installation for a bookmaker. Inspector HEATH stated that the Michigan Bell Telephone Company officials do not want to merely fire the employee, but want to make a court case against him for appropriating company equipment, but that the telephones turned over to the employee are not identifiable and a system is being worked out to identify telephones issued to him before an attempt is made to arrest him.

Confidential Informant [redacted] advised SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] on October 19, 1959, that he does not know why the Detroit Police are apparently making such an exerted effort to close up the barbute game operated by the so-called syndicate since the Negro gamblers run much bigger crap games in the Gotham Hotel and control in numerous gambling than the so-called Italian syndicate.

B. Barbuto

Confidential Informant [redacted] advised SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] on October 19, 1959, [redacted] of the barbuto game operating in the Lebanese-American Club [redacted]. He stated he did not know why the Detroit Police Department was making such a big issue over this game since it kept about ten or twelve men employed making a living running the game and also provided funds for feeding several elderly Syrians and Lebanese who merely hung around the building. He also stated that this club did not realize a great return financially from barbuto, but did state that on a good night over a weekend the net profit might be as high as $2,300 to $3,000.

On November 10, 1959, the same Informant advised SA [redacted] barbute game at the Lebanese-American Club and that from this venture [redacted] much as $1,000 a month profit and that over a year's time it would probably average about $9,000 total. He declined to name the other owners of this barbute game.

Confidential Informant [redacted] advised SA [redacted] on October 20, 1959, that the barbute game operated at the Lebanese-American Club had been caused so much difficulty by the Detroit Police Department that the actual barbute game has been moved from the club to a location some place in Dearborn in the area of the Gay Haven Night Club. This Informant also stated that the barbute game [redacted]

Inspector FRED HEATH, Vice Bureau and Senior Inspector WILLIAM BOURKE, Detroit Police Department, advised SA [redacted] on October 2, 1959 [redacted]
[redacted]

It is to be noted that [redacted]
the Lebanese-American Club at 535 Orleans, and that on September 22, 1959, the Detroit Police Department raided this club and arrested everyone in the club [redacted]

[redacted] It is also to be noted that [redacted]
[redacted]

b7c

Inspector BOURKE and Inspector HEATH advised again on October 5, 1959, they had heard nothing further from [redacted] but that they had told him that they are aware that gambling is taking place at the Lebanese-American Club and discussed with him an affidavit that had been taken several months ago from a gambler that had been at the club. They further stated that they are maintaining a twenty-four hour watch on the club, but on October 3, 1959, officers who were on duty stated that the store was so dark that it was difficult to observe the persons entering and leaving the club. As a result these two officers advised SA [redacted] on October 12, 1959, they had the Detroit Lighting Commission install a new street light over the entrance to the Lebanese-American Club and that as a result, the patrons leaving the club were wearing paper sacks over their head. They did state, however, that from the number of persons in the area, business had been greatly impaired. As of October 29, 1959, these two officers advised SA [redacted] they are still maintaining a twenty-four hour watch by police officers right at the club entrance.

"The Detroit Free Press" for October 18, 1959, carried an article concerning the cold war between the Detroit Police and the Lebanese-American Club. The article quoted that HARRY THOMAS, president of the club, stated that he was going to sue for false arrest since he was arrested while eating lunch in the club. He was also quoted as stating that he had a police record when he was young, and also quoted him as thanking the police for arranging to install a light over the entrance. "The Detroit Times" for October 21, and 24, 1959, carried additional articles wherein the Lebanese-American Club was issued a ticket for putting 2,000 pumpkins on the street adjoining the club. HARRY THOMAS was again quoted as saying that these were purchased for promoting a party for the children in the neighborhood. The article of October 24, 1959, quoted HARRY THOMAS as saying that his club spent $4,000 for pumpkins and other items to have a Halloween party for the children in the neighborhood. The article further quoted a statement by Senior Inspector BOURKE to the effect that the club has a take as much as $15,000 from this gambling operation and that he was going to continue close police observation of the club.

[redacted] Confidential Informant [redacted] advised SA [redacted] on October 23 and 29, 1959, that the Lebanese-American Club had moved its gambling operation to the location

b7C

DE 92-228

[redacted] men were arrested by Detroit police officers who conducted a raid on the above club on December 29, 1959, and were charged with violation of the state gambling laws for operating a gambling game. It is to be noted that the above address has previously been described as a private club where almost a continuous barbute operation has been going on for a considerable amount of time. It is also to be noted that barbute is a dice game wherein practically every roll of the dice is a winner or a loser and that the house takes 3 per cent of all money bet.

Inspector HEATH also stated that named as doormen and tellers are the following who are presently fugitives who were reported to be active in the operations of the gambling at the above club:

Inspector HEATH added that the above game appears to be part of the gambling interest of the old CORRADO organization which is being run by the Subject.

B. Disappearance of THOMAS KARAMANOS
aka, Tom Manos
Detroit Police Department Number 62849

Inspector FRED HEATH, Detroit Police Department Vice Bureau, and Sergeant ROBERT GRINDLE, Homicide Bureau, Detroit Police Department, advised SA [redacted] as follows on January 18, 20, 22, 25, 28, and February 2, 1960:

On January 16, 1960, [redacted]
[redacted] reported to the Detroit Police Department that the above [redacted] and that she had heard nothing from him since the early morning of January 14, 1960. She stated he had telephoned her approximately at 2:30 a.m., on January 14, 1960, stating that he was in [redacted]

[redacted] Subject. She stated she had heard nothing from him since that time and she wanted to report him as a missing person. Investigation by the Detroit Police Department has revealed that on the evening of January 13,

DE 92-228

1959, KARAMANOS went to the Oakland Bath House, 8295 Oakland, where he spent some time. In the late evening [redacted] to the Gay Haven Night Club, 15344 Warren, Dearborn, Michigan. He had taken some steaks with him to be cooked and he spent the evening at the night club [redacted]. He remained at the night club until approximately 1:30 a.m., when he was last seen standing in the parking lot outside [redacted] through the window [redacted] and others. [redacted] and remained there for several hours but to the knowledge of the police department, KARAMANOS has not been seen since his appearance in the Gay Haven parking lot. The above officers also furnished information that KARAMANOS has been a known bookmaker and gambler operating on Monroe Street in Detroit, which is known as the center of Greektown, for many years. They also described him as a braggart and a relatively small-time operator. Also, he always wore flashy jewelry and appeared to be a big shot.

As of February 2, 1960, the various police officers who have been assigned to investigate the disappearance of KARAMANOS have uncovered no information concerning his whereabouts and stated that his disappearance could have resulted from his going some place, the result of a holdup or the fact that he may have been executed by the GIACALONE interests for cheating on them or by some of the Greek gamblers who did not like his association with Italian gamblers.

Confidential Informant [redacted] advised SA [redacted] on April 28, 1960, that ANTHONY GIACALONE handles all the crap games for the gambling organization in Detroit and that he decides who can run and how the profits in the game are divided.

On May 26, 1960, Inspector FRED HEATH, Vice Bureau, Detroit Police Department, advised SA [redacted] that the trial involving [redacted] and 11 other men for violation of the state gambling laws for operating a barbute game at the Lebanese-American Club, 535 Orleans Street, is now set for July 18, 1960. He further stated that vice officers and police officers of the First Precinct advised him that there is still activity at the Lebanese-American Club, but that he does not dare set up his 24-hour surveillance on this place because defendants in the gambling case have made the allegations that they are running a legitimate club and the only trouble is the vindictiveness of Inspector FRED HEATH.

He also stated that the [redacted] system is in excellent financial condition, that no gamblers or any other persons had attempted to collect any money from the organization except legitimate bills and that he had no idea where such a rumor might start. He did add that should he learn anything [redacted] concerning any gambling losses he would immediately notify SA [redacted]

[redacted] He stated he will locate the building, but that it was necessary to enter a door from the street and then go in through two or three locked doors to an apartment in the back of the building some place; there was considerable activity around two big tables where barbute games were in operation. He stated the actual gambling is still under the direction of [redacted] is most always in the club when gambling is in operation. [redacted] in the Detroit area. Among those present were [redacted] gambling Syndicate in the Detroit area; ANTHONY GIACALONE and numerous Negro numbers operators. The reason given for the meeting was that some of the Negro numbers operators wanted more leeway on the odds that were paid on a winning number and wanted to cut the payoff rate from 500 to 1 to 300 to 1 on double numbers. By this it was meant that if in the three numbers that constitute the winning number there was included two of the same numbers such as a figure of 221, the payoff rate would be cut to 300 to 1. Informant reported that [redacted]

Confidential Informant [redacted] advised SA [redacted]

Inspector RICHARD MILLER, Homicide Bureau, Detroit Police Department, advised SA [redacted] on October 21, 1960, that seven bags containing the hacked up body of CHRIS SCROY were found in a field approximately twenty miles northeast of Mt. Clemens, Michigan, on October 17, 1960. He stated that these bags containing the parts of SCROY's body had apparently been thrown out of an automobile since they were in a ditch near the highway. They had been found by two pheasant hunters and according to the farmer who owned the land the parts of the body had been in this area for approximately two and a half weeks since he passes by this field every day and had observed these bags for approximately that length of time. Inspector MILLER stated that the body had been crudely cut up as if it had been cut with a cleaver or an ax. Inspector MILLER advised on October 24, 1960, that clothing belonging to CHRIS SCROY was still attached to the body including a necktie and some jewelry and that one of the fingers was still remaining and that this was positively identified as being a finger of SCROY. Inspector MILLER stated that it was his opinion that SCROY had been killed when he disappeared in April of 1959, that he had been buried on some land belonging to some person probably connected with the killing and that due to some construction project, such as a new road or some other building project it was necessary to remove the body from its burial place to take it away from property that could be identified with given individuals. Inspector MILLER added that with the body were the remains of pieces of rope indicating that SCROY had been tied up with his feet behind him and a rope to his neck and possibly buried alive since the examining physician listed the cause of death as strangulation. He also stated that pine needles were in the bag with the parts of the body and that this might lead to the possible later identification of the place where SCROY's body had been buried.

It is to be noted that SCROY disappeared from Detroit in April of 1959 and in 1950 had been sentenced to Michigan State Prison for shooting and wounding [redacted]. This shooting had occurred following the disappearance of SCROY's [redacted].

It is also to be noted that following [redacted] advised Agents of this Office [redacted] Subject [redacted] were responsible for the disappearance [redacted]

[redacted] advised that TONY GIACALONE is also employed by that firm. GIACALONE's chief duties are to get business out of the Valley Die Cast Corporation.

b7c

During the time that the Michigan Metal Finishing Company was establishing an anodizing unit, this equipment was being installed by the Service Die Cast Company. GIACALONE expedited the installation of this equipment through [redacted]

[redacted] to finish the job much quicker than it would have been done if he had been left alone.

The Michigan Metal Finishing Company at the present time has no business with the Valley Die Cast Corporation because Valley Die Cast has very little business itself. When the business at Valley Die Cast picks up, Michigan Metal Finishing will receive some business from this firm. In the past they have had some $60,000.00 jobs from Valley Die Cast. Michigan Metal Finishing is able to operate because they have a low labor cost and for that reason they maintain several different companies in order to cut down the number of employees for any one company. Michigan Metal Finishing has purchased all the assets and liabilities of the Aluminum Anodizing Company; however, they still operate the plant under the name Aluminum Anodizing Company. In the near future, however, Michigan Metal Finishing plans on selling this plant to some large company which is in the anodizing business. Michigan Metal Finishing will still operate the plant after they sell to another company.

[redacted]
GIACALONE [redacted] He has no knowledge of GIACALONE having an interest [redacted] [redacted] In the past, Michigan Metal Finishing has purchased Cadillacs from Howard O'Leary Cadillac. The 1961 Cadillac that GIACALONE is presently driving was purchased [redacted]
